All I Want For the Holidays Is Time!

By: Nicole Matthews, CSEP

SAN DIEGO, December 10, 2007 – As the holiday season gets into full swing, time strapped Americans become even more frazzled as they continue to pile tasks on to their already robust to-do list. “If only I had more time” becomes the mantra that is sung more than Silent Night! Hiring a personal concierge becomes the answer to finding more time and sanity for your holiday.

The Henley Company, a San Diego-based event management and personal concierge firm, is working with clients to manage their upcoming holiday season. The phone has started ringing with requests to plan the company holiday party, take over the shopping list, organize a last minute trip overseas and secure hard to find theatre tickets. “We take the stress out of the holiday season for our clients,” says Nicole R. Matthews, CSEP, Principal of The Henley Company. “By making one phone call to The Henley Company, clients give themselves the gift of time and lift the burden of their every growing holiday to-do list.”

The holidays have become frenzied with running around town trying to find last-minute gifts, long lines at the post office and a calendar full of social obligations. Why not let this be the year that you actually enjoy the holidays? “We allow clients to live the life they want by delegating the rest to The Henley Company,” says Matthews. “Whether it is addressing your endless pile of holiday greeting cards, finding that perfect gift for your mother-in-law, making sure all of the packages arrive on time or ensuring the refrigerator is full for the impromptu holiday soiree you are throwing, hiring a personal concierge is the answer. We take care of everything so you have time to enjoy the holidays with your family and friends.”

An expert in lifestyle management, The Henley Company, offers clients a variety of services including: travel coordination, event and meeting planning, personal/gift shopping, errand running, entertainment bookings, concert/theatre tickets, hotel/restaurant reservations and coordination of private functions and celebrations.

Nicole Matthews, CSEP is the Founder and Principal of The Henley Company LLC, an event management and concierge firm based in San Diego.
